The programme aims to introduce the mainstream concepts and practical knowledge in child psychology to those who wish to enhance their understanding of children and adolescents.

Objectives

Upon completion of the programme, students should:

- Understand the normal development of children and adolescents, with an emphasis on children's cognitive, social, emotional and behavioural development;
- Understand the educational needs and motivational strategies that facilitate the learning of children;
- Develop the skills to encourage and support the development of children in appropriate ways and to their full potential.

Who Should Attend

Anyone who is interested in understanding the developmental process of children, especially suitable for teachers, caring professionals, parents and caregivers who want to enhance their children's development and learning.

Programme Features

Taught by qualified and experienced educational psychologists, clinical psychologists, and developmental psychologists.

Assessment

Students are required to have an overall pass in each course assessment which consists of Continuous Assessment (in the form of assignments, case study and presentation, test etc.) and Examination. The passing mark is 50%.

Study Path

Graduates can be exempted for 10 credit points in the "Higher Diploma in Psychology" and "Bachelor of Social Sciences (Hons.)" offered by OUHK. Graduates having completed the PSYC 4008EP can be exempted from the course PSYC 6006EP of the "Professional Diploma in Health Counselling & Psychology" offered by LIPACE.

For those students who have completed the PSYC 4006EP can proceed with the "PSYC 4012EP Interventions for Children with Special Educational Needs" for the award "Professional Certificate in Special Needs Education for Children" upon graduation.

Professional Recognition

CNE: Graduates can apply for 210 Continuing Nursing Education points from the Hong Kong Nursing Council.

Exemption Policy

Students or graduates of "CH024 兒童心理學證書(中文)" cannot be exempted from any course of "DH009 Diploma in Child Psychology".
